

Table of Contents

February 2010 | Volume 8 | Issue 1

Official publication of the American Organization of Nurse Executives

GUEST EDITOR

Rose O. Sherman, EdD, RN, NEA-BC
Director, Nursing Leadership Institute
Florida Atlantic University
Boca Raton, FL
rsherman@fau.edu

Features

26 Preparing the Next Generation of Nursing Leaders: The AONE Nurse Manager Fellowship

Mark Ambler, RN, BSN, MBA, CCRN, CNML

A graduate of the inaugural AONE Nurse Manager Fellowship discusses the invaluable benefits of the program.

29 Developing a Leadership Mindset in New Graduates

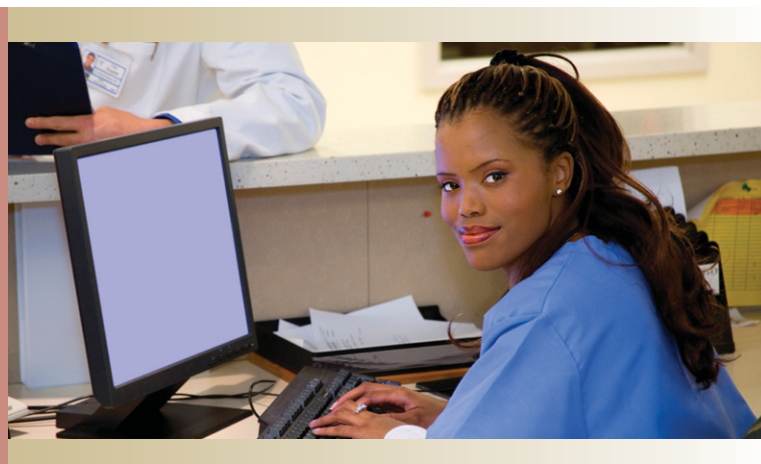

Susan Dyess, PhD, RN, and
Rose O. Sherman, EdD, RN, NEA-BC

A determined effort to focus new nurses on the authentically positive aspects of nursing leadership can promote both a leadership mindset and a smoother transition into practice.

34 Retaining an Aging Workforce by Giving Voice to Older and Experienced Nurses

Michelle Kirgan, RN, BSN,
and Susan Golembeski, RN, PhD

Research conducted throughout a large health system to determine what types of incentives and organizational support are needed to keep seasoned nurses at the bedside yielded some fascinating results.

37 The Case for Clinical Nurse Leaders: Guiding Nursing Practice into the 21st Century

Tim Porter-O'Grady, DM, EdD, APRN, FAAN,
Joan Shinkus Clark, MSN, RN, NEA-BC, CENP,
FACHE, FAAN, and Marjorie S. Wiggins, DNP (c),
MBA, RN, NEA-BC

It is up to the CNO to serve as the leader in crafting the healthcare landscape and translating it to other stakeholders, creating an environment that allows the clinical nurse leader to advance the nursing role for 21st century practice.

12 Leader To Watch

Kathleen D Sanford, DBA,
RN, CENP, FACHE
Rose O. Sherman, EdD, RN,
NEA-BC

42 Do Leadership Skills Impact Clinical Decisions Made by Ward Managers?

Tracey A. Harding, RGN, MSc, BSc (Hons), DPSN, PGCert, and Magi Sque, RN, PhD, BSc (Hons), DipNEd, RNT, FHEA

This British study explored ward managers' leadership and clinical decision-making skills to ascertain whether they believe that their personal leadership skills affect the clinical decisions they make and if so, to what degree.

46 From Talking the Talk to Walking the Walk: The Role of Nurse Leaders in Nursing Research

Linda Harrington, PhD, RN, CNS, CPHQ, CENP

Perhaps the greatest benefit of the Nurse Leader Model for Nursing Research in the Practice Setting is its ability to measure specific structure, process, and outcome variables and identify the components of a successful practice-based nursing research program.

50 Using Positive Psychology to Engage Your Staff During Difficult Times

Thomas M. Muha, MA, PhD, and Jo Manion, PhD, RN, NEA-BC, FAAN

By adapting positive psychology approaches to staff management, this hospital's leaders have brought out the best in personnel and patients.

Columns

6 Editorial

*Social Responsibility, The DNA of Leadership
Roxane Spitzer, PhD, MBA, RN, FAAN*

8 Lessons Learned

*The Leader's Responsibility: Constructive Collaboration
Katherine Vestal, RN, PhD, FAAN, FACHE*

10 The Coaching Forum

*The Problem with Perfection
Catherine Robinson-Walker, MBA, MCC*

The American Organization of Nurse Executives

19 Join AONE in April for the 43rd Annual Meeting and Exposition

Call For Letters

Nurse Leader is delighted to offer a letters to the editor section for comment, issues, and concerns.

Correspondence should be sent to roxane.spitzer@gmail.com and should include the author's email and city. Anonymous letters will not be published.